11. The entries submitted shall not be returned.

12. Constitution of the Selection Committee.—The work of selecting the best entries shall be entrusted to a Selection Committee, presided over by a Chairman, consisting of representatives of the Printing Industry, the advertisers, the artists and the publishers.

13. The members as well as Chairman of the Committee shall be nominated by the Government.

Provided that no person, who in any particular year is in any way connected with the affairs of an organisation, or interested in its working which has submitted entry or entries for the competition, or who himself is a competitor for the award, shall be appointed to the Committee in that year.

14. Appointment to the Committee will be honorary but the Chairman and members may be allowed travelling and daily allowance at the discretion of the Government.

15. Selection of entries for award of prizes.—All the entries received, which satisfy conditions laid down in these rules, shall be examined by the Committee in accordance with such procedure as may be determined by them.

16. The Committee shall select three entries, under each category and place these in order of merit, viz. the best entry, the second best and the third best entry, in any particular category, and make their recommendations to the Government for award of prizes.

Provided that if in the opinion of the Committee, two or more entries under a particular category are of equal merit, they may recommend that the prize/prizes in that category be shared.

17. If in the opinion of the Committee, none of the entries under a particular category or categories come up to acceptable standard, they may recommend to the Government that no prizes be awarded in that category/those categories.

18. The prizes awarded by Government on the recommendations of the Committee shall be announced in the Press or by notification in the Official Gazette.

19. The Government may, at its discretion, amend or alter any of the provisions of these rules.

N. J. KAMATH, Dy. Secy.
